Text: Mark 7:24-8:10

Introduction

I. Hope for Dogs

Jesus in Tyre and Sidon

II. Hope for Beggars

Jesus across the Jordan

III. Hope for the Starving

Jesus in the desolate place

“And there is salvation in no one else, for there is no other name under heaven given among men by which we must be saved.”

(Acts 4:12)

Conclusion

- What’s remarkable about the geography in this passage?
- Why do we shy away from thinking of ourselves as ‘dogs’ or ‘beggars’?
- What hopes do we tend toward in this life? How does Jesus fit into them?
- Why is the feeding the 4,000 more satisfying than the feeding of the 5,000?
